THE FINEST TIBETAN RUGS

RUG CARE INSTRUCTIONS

WOOL RUGS

Wool rugs are extremely durable, making them well suited to entries, hallways, kitchens, and dining rooms. Lanolin, a naturally occurring oil in wool, makes wool rugs more resistant to stains than other materials.

Shedding is inherent to wool rugs and occurs primarily within the first 3-6 months. All of our wool rugs use long-fiber wool and is less prone to shedding than shorter fibers.

CARE INSTRUCTIONS:

- Rotate the rug every 3 months to avoid uneven fading and wear.
- Vacuum as needed using suction only, no bristles.
- Avoid pulling loose yarns. If necessary, clip them to be even with the pile height.
- Spot clean as needed using a damp (not wet) cloth with warm water. Don't use soap or cleaning products, as they could damage or fade the rug.
- For larger, deeper stains, send the rug to a professional service with experience cleaning fine rugs.
- To preserve the life of the rug, we recommend using a rug pad.

SILK/SILK BLEND RUGS

Silk rugs are prized for their exquisite luster and rich texture. Silk fibers lend themselves to dense knotting and can be used to create rugs with highly detailed patterns.

CARE INSTRUCTIONS:

- Rotate the rug every 3 months to avoid uneven fading and wear.
- Vacuum at least once a week, twice if in a high-traffic area. Use suction only, no bristles.
- Avoid pulling loose threads. If necessary, clip them to be even with the pile height.
- Remove spills immediately by blotting with a clean, undyed cloth. Press firmly around the spill to absorb as much as possible. Lay rug flat to dry. If drying under the sun, lay the rug facedown to avoid fading.
- Professional cleaning is recommended. Send the rug to a professional service with experience cleaning fine rugs. Do not dry clean.
- Store the rug by rolling it front side out and wrapping it in cloth for protection. Never fold your rug for storage.
- To preserve the life of the rug, we recommend using a rug pad.

TENCEL™/TENCEL™ BLEND RUGS

TENCEL™, a fiber fabricated from wood pulp, is known for soft feel and relaxed sheen that evoke the qualities of silk. The fiber's affinity for dye renders it capable of holding deep, vibrant colors. TENCEL™ rugs are characterized by tonal variations that may be affected by the light in a room as well as the angle from which the rug is viewed. Shifting highlights and lowlights in the surface color of the rug are to be expected and are inherent to the design.

CARE INSTRUCTIONS:

- Rotate the rug every 3 months to avoid uneven fading and wear.
- Vacuum as needed in one direction (not back and forth) using suction only, no bristles.
- Do not spot clean or use any liquids to clean a TENCEL™ rug. Avoid rubbing stains, as this can cause them to settle more deeply.
- If cleaning is needed, send the rug to a professional service with experience cleaning for fine rugs.
- To preserve the life of the rug, we recommend using a pad.
