This image shows a detailed mosaic of various flowers. The primary focus is on several white daisies with bright yellow centers, each constructed from numerous small, light-colored mosaic tiles. These daisies are scattered across the composition. Interspersed among them are dark red flowers with long, narrow, pointed petals, also created using mosaic tiles. The background is a dense arrangement of these red flowers and some green foliage, all rendered in the same mosaic style. The overall effect is a vibrant, textured floral pattern.
