Attributes

- Tannage
All Garrett Wovens are made from 100% vegetable tanned, European full grain raw material, giving the leather a density and the weave a structural integrity not possible with standard, soft upholstery leather.
- Finishing
All Garrett Wovens are hand stained with transparent dyes, giving the leather a depth of color unattainable with typical pigmented leather finishes.
- Color
The hand staining process creates elusive color variations that add a richness and depth found only in Garrett Wovens. After the leather is cut into strips, the strips are edge dyed with a darker color to define and accentuate the patterns.
- Natural Marks
Natural markings and scratches tend to blend into the weave. Those that do show, along with the occasional subtle glue joint necessary to join the strips together, add to the richness and texture.
- Hand
Vegetable tanning provides Garrett Wovens with a heavy, round hand and a lot of body, making the quality and detailed nature of the product very evident.
- Durability
All Garrett Woven patterns are cotton backed for extra durability. Over time, these fine Wovens will age gracefully, gaining a beautiful patina with use. For general maintenance, dust and wipe with a lightly damp, clean, soft cloth.
- End Use
Garrett Wovens are ideal in low to moderate traffic areas. Recommended for upholstery and as an accent on outside backs and sides of furniture. Other popular applications include wall coverings, columns, door in-lays, desktops, and throw pillows.

Ordering

- All Garrett Wovens are sold by the yard.
- Half-yard quantities are available.
- Half yard minimum purchase is required for all patterns.

Installation

1. Identify the direction of the pattern that best suits the job at hand and inspect the leather prior to marking or cutting.
2. Lay out your pattern along the direction of the leather strips.
3. After cutting, use masking tape to seal the strips 1/4" along the edges. This will prevent the strips from moving during sewing and upholstery.
4. When using a standard single stitch seam, work with the leather and flex it to allow the leather to relax. This will help make the seam lie down flat.
5. For slip seats or one-piece box seats, it may be necessary to fold the product at the corners. Remember to flex and work the product first to increase pliancy.
